LEGACY TREE CAMPAIGN

The NACE Foundation's Legacy Tree is located in NACE International's training center, the Elcometer building, and ideally positioned in a main thoroughfare of the building, highly visible to our visitors.

Who We Are

The NACE Foundation is dedicated to inspiring the future workforce in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) disciplines, one prospective corrosion professional at a time. We are committed to resolving the corrosion epidemic by investing in scholarships, training, and workforce development.

Help Us Support Generation Next...

The NACE Foundation, together with NACE International, understands the importance of nurturing the future of our industry.

...One Student at a Time

- Promoting higher education in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM)
- Encouraging undergraduate and graduate student research and participation in industry events and conferences
- Engaging high school students in exploration of industry research and career opportunities in corrosion science and engineering

...One Teacher at a Time

- Providing hands-on corrosion experiments and curriculum for teachers to inspire, educate, and excite their students

...One Veteran at a Time

- Training returning service members in NACE certification courses and providing mentoring with the ultimate goal of a rewarding career
- Enabling service members to gain STEM-specific skills for re-entry into the job market with an alternative route to higher education

...One Leaf at a Time.
